

The Ghost Story.

Ann Smith the story teller told my group a really good ghost story.

One time in California a young priest went to visit a haunted house in a little village called Brownsville.

People have said that every time someone went into the haunted house they always came back out!

So the priest went in and he read the bible for a little while then all of a sudden he heard screaming and it was a young girl's scream too!!!

Then he heard footsteps coming up the stairs. He got a bit frightened but carried on reading the bible. He heard the door opening creak creak! He looked at the door and he saw the figure of a young girl. Her hands were skeleton hands. She had hardly any hair left. Just then the priest knew that she must have had beautiful long golden hair. She put her 2 fingers and her thumb on the priests shoulder and told him what had happened. That her boyfriend had murdered her!!!!!! She had told him that she wouldn't tell her boyfriend where all of her money was that is why he murdered her, and when he murdered her he buried her under the cellar ground! She then told him that she wanted to be buried again but the priest said first I want to take a piece of your finger off to put it in church. Then he grabbed the girl and brought her to a graveyard and buried her but he still had a piece of her finger. The very next day he went to the chapel and he got everyone to put something into a little basket, he had put the tip of the girl's baby finger in and he went to a young man and then all of a sudden the tip of the finger stuck to his hand he tried to get it off but nothing worked so he got his nails and took it off with that then the priest knew something strange was happening there and then and then he knew that that was the man who murdered the young girl!!!! The priest then died and they put his shroud in a museum where everyone could see it and they tried to cover up the marks of the girl's finger but it just kept coming through every piece of fabric!!!

The End
