

Procter and Gamble

Half of a Fermanagh story

Have you ever heard of the brand Procter & Gamble? Well James Gamble, who started the business with William Procter, was actually born at the Graan near Enniskillen, County Fermanagh, Ireland.

Isn't that insane! James Gamble, who started a famous business, was born in Fermanagh! What! That's crazy! At the time Ireland was very poor, so he moved to America. When he moved, he got married to Elizabeth Norris, Elizabeth's sister, Eliza Norris, is married to William Procter. When James and William met, James' dad suggested that they start a business together. So that is how the brand

Procter & Gamble started. But isn't it insane how James was born in Fermanagh! It will soon be their 200th anniversary. (They started in 1837)
